

Creating Consent Culture

Our responsibility to our students

PB West can assist you and your school with best practice training and interactive meaningful workshops for your students.

In 2023 teaching consent in schools will be mandatory.

For many schools this will be the first time teaching a consent curriculum and it can be daunting.

At PB WEST we designed our consent curriculum in 2018. We have been teaching it in schools ever since, and every year we make it better and more relevant. This is not some "tick the box" lecture style quick presentation that students sit through. These are interactive lessons where the students get to be involved, practice consent in one step removed scenarios, get to problem solve and explore consent as it is relevant to them.

These lessons are meaningful and can change interactions, challenge unwritten rules regarding consent and perceptions, they are designed to embed consent culture, providing strategies for young people to bring consent practices into their everyday lives.

Creating a consent culture within your school and for your students sets them up for safer, healthier relationships in life.

PB West training programs and their curriculum for use in schools are evidenced informed and best practice. The programs are specifically designed to equip staff and volunteers that work or engage with children and young people with the knowledge and skills to be able to teach, role-model and reinforce the messages of consent in a way that students feel safe and can walk away feeling empowered, with practical skills and strategies.

From our attendees

"I have just completed the amazing PBWest training.

The content of the workshops was presented in an engaging and sensitive way within a highly respectful and safe environment. There was a strong balance between instructional content, discussion and hands on activities which gave participants the opportunity to connect and consolidate what we were learning. I would highly recommend this training to anyone working with people of any stage and in any context. A massive thank you to Jodie, Judy and Ash for a fantastic PD, you are all superstars please keep up the incredible work. You're changing the world!" - Sarah

"An absolutely incredible course which facilitated outstanding knowledge amongst the professionals who attended. Their resources and knowledge of this vital area is exceptional. Highly recommend this training As an educator I will walk out even more equipped to encourage, educate and reinforce and create cultures of consent . Thank you PBWest. What an asset you are to our community." - Penny

The PB West Consent Curriculum is complete with options that can be tailored to meet your needs, these include:

- providing our skilled trainers to facilitate the consent culture workshops in your school, or;
- training your educators to facilitate and teach these workshops themselves, embedding consent culture into your school and community.

PBWest also offers bespoke models of training to suit your individual and organisational needs and our training can be delivered both online and in person. PB WEST accepts referrals for individual clients.

In addition, PB West work in the classroom, with parents groups and can help schools meet their PBs, Consent Curriculum and RSE requirements. Partnering with LizWalker, we can deliver the suite of IQ programs helping children and teens to navigate their way in this hyper-sexualised world; educating parents, children and young people to be safer online and navigate the porn culture that permeates in todays society.

The consent curriculum class resource for those trained to facilitate the program includes,

- curriculum marked against WA curriculum
- power-point with videos
- workshop activities
- comprehensive teaching guide and lesson plan
- a classroom set (20) of individual work books for students
- extra work books are available at affordable prices

Contact us at info@pwest to have a chat about how we can work together.

More from our participants

"I loved this workshop, I needed it. I have spent all this time believing it was my fault..... I thought that when he called me easy and told others I was easy too, it was because I didn't fight hard enough and couldn't get away. Thank you " - name withheld (student)

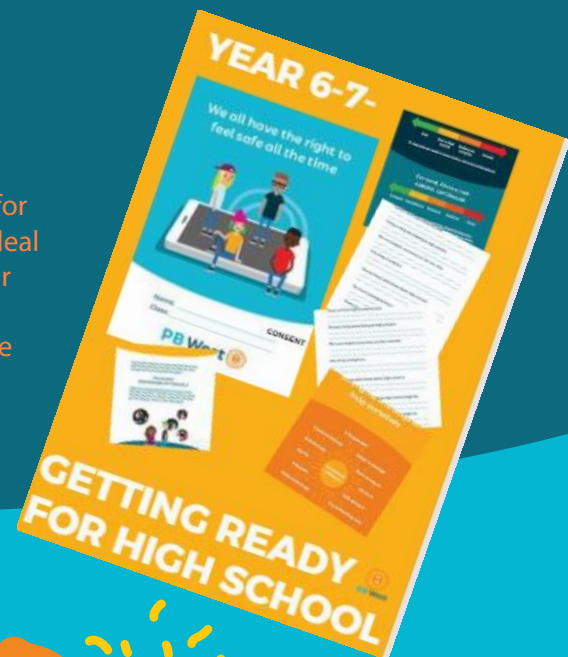

"I cant believe and I didn't know this, so many of us boys need to think more about what the other persons wants, they aren't always feeling what we are feeling. I now know how to ask and check in and respect the answer" - name withheld (student)

"PBWest provide comprehensive and relevant professional learning for all educators regardless of their role. Our teachers, education assistants and principals have all benefited from attending the professional learning workshop. They have developed an understanding of not only why we teach consent and protective behaviours, but also how to teach it and how to embed into everyday language and situations." - Meegan (education lead)

"The best and most practical professional development I have ever attended." - Lisa

"This training changes everything." - Faith

Don't forget to enquire about our Getting ready for high school workshops ideal for those just starting year seven. These workshops build resilience and create strategies to assist in a positive high school experience.

PB West

pbwest.com.au

info@pbwest.com.au
0430384161

